ELMER LAYDEN WILL BE COACH AT NOTRE DAME

Member of "Four Horsemen" Slated To Succeed Anderson

DRASTIC SHAKEUP OF STAFF REPORTED

Jess Harper To Retire
As Director of Athletics

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Dec. 8.—Elmer Layden, one of the four horsemen, will replace Hunk Anderson as head football coach at Notre Dame next fall as the result of a drastic shakeup of the Notre Dame athletic staff. Jess Harper also will retire as director of athletics. Harper's successor probably will be announced within the next two weeks. The most persistent report, however, was that Layden would hold both the athletic director's and coaching jobs. Layden is now coach at Duquesne but will leave his post in time to take charge of spring football in 1934.

Await President's Return

In the absence of Father Charles O'Donnell, president of the University, who has been recuperating from a long illness, no official statement on the changes was expected before his return tomorrow, but they were readily admitted by authorities in charge. Although none wished to be quoted personally, Harper and Anderson stepped into their positions after the tragic death of Knute Rockne in an airplane crash March 31, 1931. Harper formerly coached the Notre Dame football team and was instrumental in making the "Fighting Irish" nationally known. It was under Harper's coaching that Rockne learned the game and he ultimately succeeded his teacher when Harper decided to retire. Upon Rockne's death, Harper was recalled.

For the first year after Rockne's death, Anderson was senior football coach, assisted by Jack Chevigny, who was called the "junior coach". The combination lasted only one year and Chevigny left, making Anderson head coach. Anderson did well in his first year as head coach but last season his team had a hapless campaign that was brightened only by victories over Indiana and Northwestern and the outstanding upset of the Army.

The retirement of Harper, who has wanted to return to his ranch in Kansas again, eliminated his plan to ultimately install Noble Kizer of Purdue as head football coach at Notre Dame. It was known that Harper planned to call Kizer to the post and until today the chief of the Bojersmakers was considered a sure choice for the coaching post at Notre Dame.

OLD DAMASCUS HOTEL RAZED

Pioneer Structure Once Stopping Place for Covered Wagons

One of Damascus' oldest landmarks, the old Damascus hotel, constructed in the village's pioneer days, is being razed to make way for a dwelling.

A stopping place in pioneer days in Ohio, the hotel is believed to be more than 125 years old and once was used as campaign headquarters for former President William McKinley while he was campaigning for a congressional post.

Owned By J. B. Pearce

Owned by J. B. Pearce, the building was located on the southeast corner of the village's main thoroughfare and the Valley rd.

Damascus was platted in 1806 and records show that in 1829, Benjamin Stanley, 1843 Joseph Tollop, 1845 William Burge, 1847 Swan Pearce, 1848 James Hemmingsway, and the same year, John Morrison. Apparently business wasn't so good in 1848 and 1849 and, in 1850 the building was offered at a sheriff's sale and was sold to Isaac Taylor who, a few months later transferred ownership to Isaac Miller. Miller, in 1853, sold the hotel to Martin Deisel.

Deisel, father of O. V. and C. G. Deisel, now living in Damascus, owned the hotel.

PEEK EXPECTED TO QUIT SOON

Liberals Victors Over
Conservative AAA
Administrator

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Agriculture department liberals could claim at least a partial victory today in their differences with more conservative George N. Peek, farm administrator, because officials expected his resignation soon.

At the same time, it was equally evident President Roosevelt wished earnestly to retain the head of the agricultural adjustment administration in some other high federal position.

Secretary Wallace, under whom Peek has been working, offered a new post to his aide; at least one other position elsewhere, not immediately specified, was said to have been proposed.

See No Compromise

At any rate, officials held unlikely a compromise between Peek and liberals in the department. Tension which had existed for months and finally broke out openly, showing the secretary often accepted the advice of others rather than that of Peek, was believed to have been untenable Peek's present position.

In many of these cases, Peek favored compromise with business, whereas the liberals urged compulsion.

The suggestion was made that Peek might follow to the NRA the codes, other than those involving processing, which were transferred from the AAA to Hugh S. Johnson's agency. But Peek said he had heard nothing of that "rumor" and that he did not wish to discuss his resignation.

Deviations Up to Wallace

It was known though, that one of Peek's basic objections to his AAA job was that his decisions there were subject to approval or veto by Secretary Wallace; that a transfer to the NRA would simply move the veto power to Johnson, that Peek still thought the AAA should be independent, operating directly under the President.

All these things have been put before Mr. Roosevelt, who talked with Peek, Secretary Wallace and Dr. R. G. Tugwell, assistant secretary of agriculture and one of the leading departmental liberals.

When, and if, Peek leaves the AAA, it was forecast that his job would be taken by Chester C. Davis, now director of the production section of the farm administration, and that others would not stay long after the farm administrator departed.

DRUGGISTS MAY TAKE LEAD IN LIQUOR SALES

30-Day Monopoly Wins Approval of Sub-Committee

3.2 MAY BE PUT IN NEW DIVISION

Will Possibly Be Lifted
From Intoxicating
Liquor Class

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 8.—Ohio druggists may have a 30-day monopoly on the sale of liquor if a provision written into the administration bill by a senate judiciary sub-committee meets final approval.

At the same time, the committee proposed to lift the present 3.2 per cent beer out of the class of intoxicating liquors and also make it exempt from the local option provisions governing hard liquors.

Redraft Bill

The sub-committee, appointed during a brief morning session of the senate, set to work redrafting the administration bill.

Under mandate of the whole committee, it knocked out the state monopoly feature and substituted a licensing system.

In order to give the state commission to be created to regulate liquor sales, time to organize, however, it proposed that 30-day liquor permits be issued to druggists of the state for the sale of package liquor during the time the commission is organizing for the issuance of permits to other types of retail establishments.

The druggists' permits would be issued through the state board of pharmacy which licenses druggists. The Ohio Pharmaceutical association, appealing for licensing of drug stores, said 1246 pharmacies in the state now hold federal permits to dispense liquor for medicinal purposes.

Want 3.2 Left Alone

The proposition to lift 3.2 beer out of the class of intoxicating beverages is in line with the views of the Ohio Brewers' association and the Buckeye Brewers' association. They asked the joint judiciary committees of the house to leave the 3.2 beer law as it now is, saying the beverage had met with general favor and they did not wish it to be classed as intoxicating as was proposed in the original administration bill, already rewritten in numerous major sections.

The committee, cognizant of the brewers' appeal, rewrote the bill even further. If approved as it now is being re-drafted, the measure will forbid a township, residential district or other unit of population which, under the hard liquor local option provision, votes to forbid sale of intoxicating beverages from extending that ban also to 3.2 beer.

The beverage, however, could be banned by a local option vote specifically on 3.2 beer.

Adopt New System of Paying Bills On Relief Orders

A new system of paying bills of Columbiana county merchants on relief orders, to be effective immediately, was announced today by Relief Director E. M. Lowry at Lisbon.

The new form of relief bills will be given to merchants and must be sent to local relief offices or township seats. The bills were formerly sent to the county seat.

The bills, under the new plan, will be audited by Elmer E. Walker of Damascus, former county auditor, now located in Lisbon as state CWA examiner.

Registrations under the CWA of unemployed was also centralized at Lisbon today in an office established on the second floor of the village building. Divisional reemployment headquarters located in various sections of the county closed yesterday.

Reports of registrations announced today by Director Lowry showed that 7,303 persons registered as unemployed in eight county places. The reports follow:
East Liverpool 1,938, Lisbon 1,359, Salem 1,081, Wellsville 1,060, East Palestine 671, Leetonia 634, East Rochester 293, Salineville 297.

A total of 2,440 county men were employed on CWA projects today but Director Lowry said that the county is still several hundred short of the quota fixed by the state.

A telegram today instructed Lowry to add 200 men to the county's quota increasing it to 3,120.

45 Men Assigned to Task of Straightening Out Sewage Creek

102 MEN TO BE ON JOB ULTIMATELY

Others Engaged On Sanitary Sewers and "County Ditch"

Forty-five men today went to work on the job of straightening out the channel of the sewage plant effluent creek, one of nine projects for which E. M. Lowry, county CWA director, received formal approval from the state yesterday. A total of $33,703 will be spent on three Salem jobs.

The creek, now a succession of bends and twists, will be straightened for a distance of one mile from the sewage plant to the Kridler farm. Valleys of damages have been incurred from property owners along the creek route.

$16,896 To Be Spent

The project officially calls for the expenditure of $16,896, all of which will be a federal grant, and the employment of 102 men for 11 weeks.

The forty-five men assigned to the job today were transferred from the "county ditch" project, and other workers will be called out as rapidly as possible.

Among the nine approved projects were two other Salem projects, one calling for the cleaning and enlarging of drainage ditches, with a federal grant of $8,046, employing 32 men for 11 weeks; and the other, sanitary sewer work, with a federal grant of $7,378, of which $3,375 will be spent in wages. The total cost, however, will be $8,153.50. Fifty men are to be employed for eight and one-half weeks.

Under the sanitary sewer projects are listed separate jobs calling for the extension of sewer drainage systems to Buckeye ave., Frank st., and Perry and Granite sts.

Other projects approved are:

Guilford State park—Concrete reinforcement of dam. Total cost $27,622, of which $11,522 is federal money and $11,000 from the division of conservation. Sixty men will be employed 80 days, wages totaling $11,154.

East Palestine—Grading and slugging road, from Main street to sewage plant, at a cost of $5,247, of which $4,323 is federal money. Time of project 11 weeks, employing 25 men.

East Palestine—Cleaning Sulphur creek. Cost of project $4,323, all a federal grant, and 25 men will be employed 11 weeks.

East Liverpool—Princeton street sewer; $17,927.60, of which $15,977 is federal money. Wages for 102 men working 56 days scheduled at $14,469.

Leetonia—Improvement at disposal plant; $41,771, of which $18,171 is federal money. Three men will be employed eight days.

Other county projects have been submitted to the CWA offices at Columbus for approval, and a number of these are expected to be returned here not later than Monday.

THEMSELVESIt is natural that certain assemblies, particularly members of the Republican minority, are calling on heaven to witness that they warned the state against corruption in the administration's proposed system of liquor control. If Republicans were in power, the warning would be given by Democrats.There is good justification for it.
If experience is worthy of note, it can be said truthfully that the system favored by Governor White probably will be shot through and through with the peculiar diseases of partisan politics and the general disease of dishonesty in a few years, if it is adopted.S. P. Bush, secretary of the commission which recommended the system, has made a fair reply to the alarmists. Corruption will creep into any system unless its administration is placed in the hands of men of the highest integrity, he argues.
Systems don't corrupt themselves.
They are corrupted by administrators.The general assembly will be chasing a red herring if it is persuaded to oppose the administration proposal because it affords a few birds for grafters and spoilsmen. Its members would do well to remember that graft and unsavory politics led to the downfall of the license system which preceded national prohibition.No system will work unless the human element it deals with wants it to work. To seek perfection in a system is to seek something which simply doesn't exist. To seek perfection in men charged with adminis-trating a system is, unfortunately, an activity infrequently pursued by the people. Instead of charging men with weakness, they misplace the charge against some system which failed to make them strong.The administration plan is as close to perfection as any of the theoretical systems under consideration. If it were to be administered honestly, it would work with reasonable efficiency. If Ohio is going to be tolerant of corruption and graft in administration of liquor control, one system is as good as another. None will work in that event.CHRISTIANITY IN GOVERN-MENTIt must be counted a misfortune for Americans that a reference to lynching by President Roosevelt in his speech to the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America was selected for special attention.
To many, intense interest in that subject will obscure the broader significance of a message remarkable for its qualities of faith, vision and spirit.Transcending his skill in the handling of individual problems has been the President's convincing faith that there is nothing so fundamentally wrong with the country that it cannot be overcome. He has shown his faith in his speech, his expression, his persistent cheerfulness.
It has been inestimably valuable in public morale.His address to the Federal Council revealed some of the convictions which are sustaining his leadership.
Reading them, even the most antagonistic skeptic would have to admit loss of an answer. Granting sincerity, and it is significant that Mr.
Roosevelt's sincerity is less questioned now that he has acted than it was when he sought the privilege to act, no American can scoff at such idealism as was placed frankly before the group of Christian leaders.America is "fighting a war for social justice," the President said.
"If I were asked to state the great objective which church and state are both demanding for the sake of every man and woman and child inthis country, I would say that great objective is 'a more abundant life.'
"We recognize the right of the individual to seek and to obtain his own fair wage, his own fair profit, in his own fair way—just so long as in the doing of it he shall not push down nor hold his own neighbor."The president of the United States is called upon to speak more often than he would choose in the interests of keeping his statements free of repetition and padding verbiage. Obviously, Mr. Roosevelt had something to say to the Federal Council. If it is bad fortune that in incidental part of his address was overemphasized, it is good fortune that the country has on record the frank statement that its leader is moved by a vision so close to the vision of Christianity that its description is reaffirmation of Christian principles.

HEALTH

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland
New York City"Recurrent" Diseases Of Skin.
Nothing is more distressing than an itchy inflammation of the skin, such as the so-called "seven-year itch." I sympathize with sufferers from this affliction. My sympathy would be much greater if I believed that they would be subjected to this annoying disturbance for seven long years, as the name of the disease would indicate. Fortunately, there is no seven-year basis for this theory that the "itch" will last for seven years or periodically recur every seven years.This disturbance of the skin is known medically as "scabies." It is caused by a parasite known as the "acarus scabiei." When this is destroyed by suitable antiseptics, the itch disappears and so far as that particular infection is concerned, never returns. Of course, if the victim is exposed to the parasite he may contract the disease.Spreads Rapidly
The parasite is found where filth and unhygienic conditions exist. It is a common affliction of persons who are careless and negligent regarding their personal habits. Yet it may attack some who are unquestionably clean. The parasite may be picked up in public places, such as public bath houses, wash-rooms or rest rooms.Since the disease spreads rapidly from one individual to another, extreme care should be taken to prevent its occurrence. This is particularly true in institutions, where many persons are closely housed together. Scabies is likely to be prevalent in camps or places where the necessary sanitary measures are not enforced.The infection should always be suspected when the skin itches and becomes red. As a rule, it is first noticed between the fingers, under the arms or in the groin and quickly spreads to other parts of the body.Method of Treatment
If you have been exposed to scabies or suspect that you have this intolerable "itch," examine the afflicted skin carefully. If the disturbance is due to scabies, you will notice fine, small furrows in the skin. At times a grayish speck is observed at the end of the furrow.
This is probably the parasite.
The treatment of scabies is based upon absolute cleanliness and the destruction of the offending parasite. The parasite is best destroyed by the application of a sulphur ointment. Apply the ointment over the entire body just before retiring.
Take a warm bath in the morning and remove the ointment by scrubbing with a stiff brush. Repeat this procedure until no trace of the parasite can be seen. There must be fresh clothing after each bath.

MOUNTAINS
LAZY PEOPLE
AUTOMOBILES

By Arthur Brisbane

(Copyright, 1933 By King Features

HEARST RANCH, SAN SIMON, Cal Don Poncho, good American of Spanish descent, born on the edge of the Pacific, just below here, near Cambria, says:

"I'll take you over to the hill above Marmolejo. You can see very far from there. How far? To New York, nearly."

The earth's roundness, and many modern contraptions do not limit Don Poncho. He takes you long miles, on horseback, of course, early in the morning, to the hill above Marmolejo, shows you a stately group of mountains, including Lucia, far to the north, all the while explaining that the world is changing, for the worse.

"I'll tell you what's the matter with this country. You know it yourself. It's the automobile. That costs money, makes people lazy. People in San Simon get in the automobile to go down to the store. Automobiles and trucks always running from this ranch to San Luis Obispo and back, bringing people, taking them away."

"We used to hitch six horses to a wagon, once a month, drive to San Luis, one day, drive back the next, spend four bits. That was living."

WHEN DON PONCHO, years ago, went to Sacramento to bring back a bunch of horses, including "one wild horse," it was his first and only trip to such a distance. Persuaded to enter an automobile, after a few moments he seized the driver by the neck and ordered him to stop. He went after the brown wild horse on foot, roped him in the corral "and you never saw such a good horse. We worked and rode him 20 years."

ONCE, in early automobile days, when a motorist drove too fast through a herd of steers that Don Poncho was driving, the latter first protested courteously, then dropped his rope around the motorist's shoulders, dragged him out of his car and to the police station.

BLOOD will tell, Don Poncho could give lessons in manners to anyone lacking his Spanish ancestral line. You could send the average second generation of American go-getters to "prep" school, New England college, and over to Oxford, to be ironed out by experts; and that American, compared to Don Poncho would be like Sancho Panza compared to his master, Don Quixote.

HE TELLS you with a smile that he was "born on a horse," and now, with his eightieth year far behind him, rides his 30 or 40 miles, straight as an arrow, amazed if asked "are you tired," throws his leg over a 16-hand horse as gracefully and lightly as he did 50 years ago, and says, "I take you a better ride tomorrow, only longer."

MANSFIELD, O., Dec. 8.—Police Chief William Lauer announced the seizure of a 250-gallon still and confiscation of 250 gallons of illegal liquor after Mayor Charles M. Lantz ordered a cleanup of bootleggers and speakeasies "by the time the sale of hard liquor is legalized in Ohio." James Rossi pleaded guilty to illegal possession and was fined $150 and costs.

CHAPTER NO. 10

Indiana Will Give Copeland To Ohio

(By Associated Press)

LIMA, O., Dec. 8.—Indiana, says Prosecutor E. M. Botkin of Allen county, has promised to turn Harry Copeland over to Ohio for trial on a charge of murder in the slaying of Jesse Barber, if Ohio has a case against him.

Botkin, who declared such a statement had been made to him by A. G. Feeney, Indiana state director of safety, added that "we believe we have a case." The prosecutor said it was hoped to have the trial start by about January 15.

Copeland, Harry Pierpont and five others were indicted for murder in connection with Sheriff Barber's death. Barber was shot down as a band of men delivered John Dillinger from the Allen county jail, where he was held for trial on a bank robbery charge.

Indiana authorities have been holding Copeland for questioning in connection with the activities of the Dillinger-Pierpont gang and bank robberies attributed to them in Indiana and Ohio. He was captured in Chicago Nov. 19.—Dillinger shot his way out of two police traps in Chicago and is still at liberty.

Leaders of Lynch Mob Are Identified

(By Associated Press)

SAN JOSE, Calif., Dec. 8.—Identification of leaders of the mob that lynched the kidnap-slayers of Brooke L. Hart was awaited by authorities here today after District Atty. Fred L. Thomas announced he would prosecute if "proper evidence" is presented.

Sheriff William J. Ennis, injured by the mob as it stormed the jail and seized Thomas H. Thurmond and John M. Holmes who confessed to killing Hart in a $40,000 extortion plot, said no immediate arrests are contemplated.

A. L. Wirin of Los Angeles, attorney for the American Civil Liberties Union, declared he would produce witnesses to identify at least two mob leaders.

Wirin declared that unless county authorities took action he would place the evidence before United States Attorney General Homer S. Cummings.

Accused In Holdup

GALLIPOLIS, O., Dec. 8.—Accused of assisting in the robbery of Wallace Phillips, night operator of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad station at Kanawha, near here, June 10, Mrs. Edith Rathbone, 30, was held for the county grand jury today after failing to furnish $500 bail, on a holdup charge.

Her husband escaped Monday night from the Gallia county jail, where he had been held in connection with a store holdup.

Deserted 60 Times

CHICAGO, Dec. 8.—Having been deserted, she alleged, 60 times in her 21 years of married life, Mrs. Elizabeth Cichocki filed a divorce bill against her husband, Frank.

Plan National Park

SANDUSKY, O., Dec. 8.—The move to have Johnson's Island made the only National park in Ohio has the approval of Congressman W. L. Fiesinger and has drawn an expression of favor from Major General Lytle Brown.

The island was used as a prison for confederate soldiers during the Civil war and the government already owns a cemetery there for soldiers who wore the gray.

Gun Wielder Gets Penitentiary Term

(By Associated Press)

LOUDONVILLE, O., Dec. 8.—S. E. Strauss, garage and filling station operator of Jewellway, six miles south of here, must serve a one to 20 year term in Ohio penitentiary for shooting a justice of the peace who attempted to aid Strauss' wife when he heard the woman scream for help.

Judge P. L. Wilkins of Knox county late yesterday sentenced Strauss on a charge of shooting with intent to kill Roy Koppert, the justice of the peace at Jewellway, who lay critically wounded for several weeks after the shooting.

Koppert testified he ran to Mrs. Strauss' aid when he heard her cry, "Help, he's killing all of us." When the justice arrived he said, Strauss' 16-year-old son, Clarence, ran up with a shotgun. Strauss grabbed the weapon and shot Koppert through the neck and hip.

LABORATORY TESTS CHECK EFFICACY OF KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN

Show Why This Delicious Cereal Overcomes Common Constipation

There are scientific reasons for the success of ALL-BRAN in preventing and relieving common constipation. Laboratory investigations show that it supplies "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to promote appetite, and help tone the intestinal tract.

These two important food-elements aid regular habits, and help do away with the headaches, loss of appetite and energy, so often the result of constipation.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is mild in action—much like that of lettuce. Inside the body, it forms a soft mass, which gently clears the intestines of wastes.

Isn't this pleasant "cereal way" far more healthful than using pills and drugs—so often habit-forming? Just eat two tablespoonsfuls of Kellogg's daily—enough for most types of constipation. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Besides, ALL-BRAN brings your body twice as much blood-building iron as an equal amount by weight of beef liver.

Special cooking processes make ALL-BRAN finer, softer, more palatable. Equally tasty as a cereal, or used in cooking. Recipes on the red-and-green package. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Use Care In Gift Packing, Labeling For Yule Shipping

With the approach of the holidays, there are signs of slowly improving business conditions and increased public buying power, in the opinion of L. F. Buehler, agent of the Railway Express Agency in this city.

"We are preparing for increased shipping, not only during the next few weeks before Christmas, but very definitely in 1934," he said today.

"Evidence that holiday shipping is expected to be better than last year is given in the fact that two million special Christmas package address labels have been distributed throughout the express system for the convenience of holiday shippers. A supply is available at the local express office.

The Express Agency representative offers some timely suggestions on the packing and addressing of gift shipments to insure prompt and safe arrival at this very busy period in the transportation business.

These are important because much of the holiday traffic comes from infrequent shippers.

Use plenty of good wrapping paper and twine and if the contents are fragile, so indicate on package.

The complete and legible addressing of packages is of vital importance as illegible or incorrect "marks" often cause delays in transit. Owing to the growth of so many small towns, which have become sizable cities, express people urge that the complete street address of the receiver of a package be indicated in the address.

Care in writing names of states, especially when abbreviations are used, is also important. There are dozens of cities and towns of the same name located in different states. If the state name is abbreviated in such a way as to suggest the wrong state location, packages may go astray, no matter what care is taken by transportation people in handling them.

Spend 8 Million

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 8.—During December, estimates Ohio CWA Administrator E. O. Braught, more than $8,000,000 will be spent in the state in furtherance of the Civil Works program.

Governor George White, after a conference with Braught, announced the additional allotment of 25,000 workers, bringing to a total of 2,000 the number of workers who will be actively engaged by the end of next week.

Roosevelt Money Is Sound, Johnson Claims In Address

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—The Roosevelt dollar, in the words of Gov. Hugh B. Johnson, NRA chief, is the soundest money on the face of the globe.

Gov. Johnson told members of the National Manufacturers association last night that the President is "on sound ground." Only a few hours earlier the association members had applauded a plea for "rugged individualism" as opposed to "ragged collectivism."

He scoffed at the criticism that the government had been "dictatorial" in the framing of codes. "Every code came by agreement," he said. "The agreements came through a long and painful process, but they came by common consent and not by any federal dictum."

He urged the manufacturers to "do your own thinking," and said that criticism from political groups opposed to President Roosevelt is natural.

The only hope of the opposition party," he said, is to make the Roosevelt administration a failure. "The President is on sound ground. He is giving the inflationist theory an absolute test, but he is doing it without jumping into an unmeasured abyss and he should be given the support of every prudent man in doing it."

Charles R. Hook, of Middletown, O., was elected a member of the organization's board of directors yesterday.

Shank, At Prison Farm, Awaits Death

(By Associated Press)

BENTON, Ark., Dec. 8.—Sentenced to die in the electric chair on February 2, 1934, for one of four poison murders of which he was accused, Mark H. Shank, Akron, Ohio, attorney, today was in the death house at Tucker prison farm.

The poison slayer was taken to the prison late yesterday after hearing Circuit Judge Thomas E. Toler sentence him to death for the murder of Alvin Colley, who, with his wife and two young children, died near here last August 15 after drinking poisoned grape juice at a picnic lunch.

Sentence was passed after motion of Shank's counsel for a new trial had been overruled by Judge Toler following extended arguments during which attorneys cited numerous alleged errors on which an appeal will be based.

Shank's counsel gave notice of appeal which automatically stays execution of sentence.

Historic Site Gift

NEWARK, O., Dec. 8.—A tract in Flint Ridge, where primitive Americans obtained material for their tools and weapons has been acquired by the Ohio Archeological and Historical society, through a gift from L. H. Woodrop of Newark, N. J.

The site of about 25 acres belonged to the Flint Ridge Mining and Manufacturing company, is dotted with a score of flint pits, and is a part of the largest flint deposit in the United States.

OLD DAMASCUS HOTEL RAZED

Pioneer Structure Once Stopping Place for Covered Wagons

The hotel in conjunction with a livery stable in rear space, for 30 years until he died in 1883. Both businesses were sold to Eliza Callahan Smith, aunt of Loe Callahan. Mrs. Smith leased the building to John Moore who for a short time opened it for use as a saloon. After several attempts to force the closing of the saloon, the Friends church, with financial aid of Mahlon Atkinson, father of A. L. Atkinson of Alliance, purchased the hotel and sold it to Joseph R. Quinn, father of Mrs. T. D. Primm and Mrs. J. G. Gibb, in 1885.

A clause was inserted into the deed of sale stipulating that "intoxicating liquors shall not be sold on the premises" with the result that the hotel later was termed the "Temperance House." It had for years been known under several names but more commonly was known as the Damascus Inn. In 1900 Quinn sold the place to J. B. Pearce, the present owner who operated it as a hotel and livery stable until 1920. The building was remodeled for use as a family apartment.

About the hotel are built many traditions of early life in Damascus. It was the scene of numerous meetings of Friends church members and, before automobiles were even dreamed of, was a regular stop for covered wagons between Wellsville and Cleveland. It also once housed the Damascus post office.

President McKinley, accompanied by James Crew and Mahlon Atkinson, stopped at the hotel for several days in his congressional campaign. The new Ford V-8 for 1934 will be on display Saturday at the show rooms of the E. L. Grate Motor Co., South Ellsworth Ave., simultaneously with exhibits of a similar nature throughout the country. The Grate company announces improvements in engine performance, through a new dual down-draft carburetor, a new top speed, a new ventilation system, distinctive lines, new enamel finishes, safety glass windshields, increased gasoline economy and other features.

Alfred Read Jailed On Charge of Theft

(By Associated Press)
LOS ANGELES, Dec. 8.—Once a figure in the night life of Hollywood and the sweetheart of Claire Windsor, actress, Alfred C. Read, Jr., was confined to a cell in the Lincoln Heights jail today. He was sentenced to a term of 30 days for the theft of $11 from the purse of Miss Windsor.

"You made your bed, and you must lie in it," said Municipal Judge Clement D. Nye in sentencing Read. "I place no credence on the suggestion that your arrest resulted from a so-called frameup. You have brought your punishment on yourself."

Read was convicted of stealing the money when he called on the actress in connection with a $75,000 judgement returned against her in an alienation of affections suit brought by Mrs. Marian V. Read, the former broker's ex-wife.

Seven Meet Death In Michigan Fire

(By Associated Press)
SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., Dec. 8.—Seven persons were burned to death early today when fire destroyed the home in which they were sleeping. The dead are: Mrs. Genevieve Hibben, 31, and her four children: Genevieve, 8; Catherine, 6; Jerome, 5; and Ernest, 2; and Mrs. Erlene Orr, 19, and her daughter, Constance, 18 months.

The fire, which apparently started from an overheated stove, wrecked the interior of the house and was not discovered until it had made considerable headway. Firemen said that all the occupants, apparently had been burned to death before they could give an alarm.

Mrs. Orr's husband, Albert, was said to be employed on a dredging project in the Detroit river near Amherstburg.

EX-CONVICT IS SHOT TO DEATH

Mob In Texas Takes Body From Sheriff and Burns It

(By Associated Press)
KOUNTZE, Texas, Dec. 8.—David Gregory, Negro ex-convict accused of criminally attacking and slaying a white woman, was shot to death when he allegedly resisted arrest by a posse and his body later mutilated and burned by a mob of 300 which dragged it to a pyre in the Negro section early today.

Officers and incensed citizens had been searching for the Negro, since Mrs. Melville Williams Brockman, 30, wife of a farmer, was found dead last Saturday. Last night a posse trailed the Negro to his hiding place in the belfry of a Negro church at Voth, a town between Kountze and Beaumont, where he was shot and wounded when officers said he resisted arrest.

The wounded Negro, unconscious, was taken to a Beaumont hospital, but when officers received information a mob was forming at Kountze, they took the Negro away in an automobile, trying to protect him. Without regaining consciousness or being able to make any statement, the Negro died as the car bearing him sped toward Vidor.

Mob Gets Body
The body was taken to Silsbee, another small town in the vicinity, by Sheriff Miles Jordan. Learning of these developments, the mob trailed the sheriff to Silsbee, took the body from him, tied it behind an automobile with chains, and dragged it for 35 minutes through the Negro section of Kountze.

Jail Raid Rumored
There was talk of raiding the Hardin county jail here and inflicting similar treatment upon two other Negroes under arrest, suspected of having aided Gregory to evade officers shortly after Mrs. Brockman was killed. But the mob dispersed after burning the body.

In the face of mob threats, 29 deputies, rangers and armed citizens stood guard in the county jail until the danger had passed.

Mrs. Brockman started for Kountze alone in a light truck and was found shot to death beside the truck which had been set afire. Flames had seared her body. She had planned to exchange a pair of baby shoes she had purchased.

Trains Collide
EATON, O., Dec. 8.—A westbound fast freight train of the Pennsylvania road struck a local freight before it could clear a siding last night, lying up traffic on the line and causing slight injuries to Engineer Ernest Decker and Fireman C. J. Moyer, both of Richmond, Ind., who jumped from the locomotive of the through train.

Four Men Held In Warner Lynching

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Dec. 8.—Four men are in custody in connection with the lynching Nov. 23, of Lloyd Warner, 19-year-old Negro said by police to have confessed an attack on a young Jewish girl.

Aaron Levin, junk dealer, and John F. Zook, former policeman, are charged with first degree murder. Both pleaded not guilty.

Carl Fisher is charged with possession of a pistol stolen from the Buchanan county jail living quarters of Sheriff Otto Theisen the night a mob battled officers, wrecked the jail and finally was given the prisoner. He pleaded guilty, sentence was deferred.

Walter Garion also pleaded guilty to a charge of malicious destruction of property in connection with the jail attack.

Trap Law Breakers
ST. PAUL, Dec. 8.—There's a point to this story.

Minnesota game wardens, seeking hunters who killed deer before season used the simple expedient of sticking dated thumb tacks into the heads of slain deer they found in hidden places of the north woods.

Later, when the hunter returned for his deer and brought it into the open, a warden inspected it, and if it contained the tell-tale thumb tack, an arrest followed.

NEW FORD V-8 for 1934

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

The New Ford V-8 for 1934 will be on display tomorrow at the showrooms of Ford dealers. Surpassing even the great Ford of 1933 in economy, beauty and comfort, it is truly the car of this modern age—the culmination of thirty years Ford progress. It combines the proved performance of the V-8 cylinder engine with two important new features—Dual Carburetion and perfected Clear-vision Ventilation. See it and drive it at the first opportunity.

OUTSTANDING IMPROVEMENTS IN THE NEW FORD V-8

BETTER PERFORMANCE. Greater power, new speed, quicker acceleration, smoother performance, more miles per gallon especially at higher speeds, and quicker starting in cold weather—all these result from the new dual carburetor and dual intake manifold. New waterline thermostats enable the engine to warm up more quickly and to maintain an efficient operating temperature. Added engine refinements reduce oil consumption, further improve operating economy and reduce maintenance costs.

NEW VENTILATION SYSTEM permits clear vision, prevents drafts and provides desired amount of fresh air in any weather. Individual control for front and rear side windows. When ventilation is desired the window glass is raised to the top. Then the handle is given an additional half-turn. This slides the glass back horizontally to form a narrow slot, as illustrated.

Through this slot air is drawn out by the forward motion of the car. This simple ventilation system maintains draft-free circulation, insures passenger comfort, prevents fogging windshield in cold or stormy weather. Both windshield and cowl ventilator can be opened to supply additional air needed for comfortable warm-weather driving.

DISTINCTIVE NEW APPEARANCE enhanced by the newly designed chromium-plated radiator shell and grille, new hood louvers, new hub caps. Interiors are attractive, with new tufted upholstery, new moldings, new cove-type headlining, new instrument panel, new arm rests, new hardware. Swivel-type sun visors in De Luxe bodies prevent glare from front or side.

FENDERS IN COLOR. On De Luxe cars fenders are in color to harmonize with body colors

—wheel colors optional. New enamel finish on all bodies and fenders has greater wearing quality and more enduring luster.

GREATER RIDING COMFORT results from increased spring flexibility. The spring leaves are newly designed for quieter and easier action. Shock absorbers are improved. Seat cushions are deeper, with new, softer springs. New type, individual bucket seats provide increased comfort for front-seat passengers in the Tudor Sedan. Adding to comfort is the new driving ease of the 15-to-1 steering gear ratio.

PRICES REMAIN LOW—Tudor Sedan, $535; Coupe, $545; Fordor Sedan, $585; De Luxe Tudor, $595; De Luxe Fordor, $625; De Luxe Coupe (5 windows), $655; De Luxe Coupe (3 windows), $685; De Luxe Roadster, $525; De Luxe Phaeton, $555; Cabriolet, $590; Victoria, $610. U. S. GOLD PRICE IS UNCHANGED

Administration Is Elated Over Treasury Issue Over-Subscription

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Amidst administration elation over heavy over-subscription to its billion dollar treasury note issue, the RFC gold price today was held for the seventh successive business day at $34.01 an ounce.

It represented the longest duration of one figure since President Roosevelt's gold policy was established.

Just before the high of $34.01 was reached, the price of $33.75 prevailed for six business days.

Foreign Purchases Light
The unusual repetition of the price coincided with another significant factor as well as yesterday's single day over-subscription to the issue of 2 1/2 per cent notes. Foreign gold purchases, said Chairman Jones of the RFC, have not been sufficient for a "good piece of bridgework."

The RFC must take all new domestic gold offered, however, and has paid out $11,750,000 in this way.

Over-subscription in a business day of the $500,000,000 issue of one year 2 1/2 per cent certificates was unusual of itself. For the past several years all such treasury offerings have been taken in a single day. This was the case in October when $500,000,000 of 10 to 12 year bonds were sold for cash just before gold buying began.

White House Announces
But considered as the first major financing since the beginning of the gold program, success of the issue was said in treasury circles to gain special significance in view of a forecast by Dr. O. M. W. Sprague—who resigned recently as financial advisor to the treasury—that it might become necessary to resort to greenbacks to meet debt requirements.

Its importance to the administration was emphasized by the fact that first announcement of the over-subscription came from the white house instead of the treasury's routine channels. Treasury officials openly expressed their great satisfaction at the success of the borrowing, the President having ordered the books closed at 4:30 p. m., yesterday after they were open only a few hours.

Kidnaped Police Crew Is Released
(By Associated Press)

HALIFAX, N. S., Dec. 8.—The Royal Canadian mounted police announced today that four members of the crew of the police cutter Stumble Inn, kidnaped aboard the Kromhout, a suspected rum runner, were landed safely last night at St. Pierre. The crew of the Kromhout was jailed.

While every available craft of Canada's police service combed the Atlantic for the four captives, they were landed on the Rocky Island of Newfoundland's coast at 9 p. m., some 12 hours after their abduction.

Captain Ross Mason of the Kromhout and his men were arrested immediately and placed in jail at St. Pierre.

The four seamen had been placed aboard the Kromhout, which was seized by the Stumble Inn and taken into tow. They were overpowered, the towline was hacked and the captured vessel escaped in the morning mist, despite shots and pursuit from the police boat.

Prisoners' Tooth Marks Are Refused
FOND DU LAC, Wis., Dec. 8.—Carrying an apple in each hand, a farmer appealed to county jail officials here for permission to take tooth marks of two prisoners.

The farmer explained that thieves visited his place last summer and ate some apples. He said he examined the cores and was positive he would recognize the tooth prints.

Jail officials refused the request.

Foil Jail Break
COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 8.—The discovery of 50 rounds of ammunition and two revolvers in the cell of Richard Beal, alias Byron Rollison, 25, prevented delivery from the Franklin county jail, said Assistant Detective Chief Thomas Scully.

He declared Mrs. Page Slagle, 39, admitted smuggling the weapons into the man's cell. The break was to have included Beal, a trusty held as a suspect in a filling station robbery, and his cellmate, Edward Starkey, of Chicago, held on a forgery charge, Scully said.

"The World Changes" Starring Paul Muni, Plays State Tonight

THROUGH three generations "The World Changes" follows the Nordholms, follows them from Dakota in 1857 to the Wall Street market hysteria of 1929. It is really the history of a family, a hardy pioneer family that carodes from the decaying influence of wealth and snobbery and disintegrates into a worthless and hopeless lot.

Historical Film
"The World Changes" playing at the State today and Saturday, recalls to our minds scenes from "Silver Dollar" and "Cannaron". It is a historical film as were the others and there is about it all those epic qualities which usually accompany historical sagas of the sort. It is always interesting, this pattern of weaving lives and experiences of each generation, though at times it is a bit difficult to capture dramatically.

Paul Muni as the star and Mervyn LeRoy, who directed the former in "I Am a Fugitive" are reunited and that fact alone should make this an outstanding film.

Muni, one of the most talented actors on the screen today makes but few pictures a year but every one so far has been a box office hit.

This time he is supported by a far above average cast consisting of Aline MacMahon, Mary Astor, Donald Cook, Patricia Ellis, Jean Muir, Margaret Lindsay, Guy Kibbee, Gordon Westcott, Anna Q. Nilsson, William Janney and Alan Dinehart.

Paul Muni Excellent
The role of Orin Nordholm, who defies tradition to drive cattle from Texas to Omaha and establish himself as leading meat packer, a worthy of Muni's vigorous performance. Relegated to the life of a broken old man when the film is but half over, his opportunity for spectacular brilliance is gone but his forceful characterization as a shrewd young industrialist dominates the film.

Aline MacMahon is very effective in another character role but lovely Mary Astor as Nordholm's snobbish wife whose hatred of her husband's profession brings on a mental collapse that finds her shouting insane remains rather disturbing in one's memory—she is a miscast.

Cook, Kibbee and Miss Muir are all splendid.

"The World Changes" is an interesting picture of American history, dominated by several outstanding characterizations.

A large audience enjoyed the farce-comedy "Here Comes Charlie," presented by local talent Wednesday and Thursday evenings in the High school auditorium under the auspices of the Ladies' auxiliary of the American Legion, who will use the proceeds for their relief work among the needy of the community.

Legion Band Plays

The American Legion band, directed by Charles Essegren, gave a half-hour concert prior to the rise of the curtain, this being followed by three numbers sung by the children's school choir of about 150 voices directed by Miss Martha Krause. Both musical organizations were highly complimented on their renditions. The band also played between acts. The members of the cast were carefully and successfully selected and were admirably drilled in their roles by Miss Martha Krause, who deserves a lion's share of the credit for the success of the presentation. Eleanor "Boots" Fisher, in the title role, and Edgar Mather in an important character part, were excellent in their roles.

Six Teams To Compete In Salem Class A Basketball League

RACE FOR TITLE TO OPEN HERE WEEK OF JAN. 18

Strong Quintets to Seek City Laurels, Now Held by Orphans

Six teams will compete in the Class A municipal basketball league at the Memorial building during the 1933-34 season. Joe M. Kelley, manager, announced today following an organization meeting of managers and backers Wednesday night.

Two new teams, the W. W. Brown Heating & Supply company and the Trade Class, entered the circuit in addition to four entries of a year ago. The teams again competing are the R. L. Smith Creamery, Mullins, Sanders Orphans and Golden Eagle.

Orphans Defend Title

The Orphans will be cast in the role of defending champions, having won the title in a thrilling contest in the 1932-33 campaign.

Purn Sidinger, former Salem High cage star, is manager-captain of the Orphan quintet while Holland W. Cameron, teacher of Trades Classes here, is managing that team. Other managers are:

Smith's Creamery, "Judy" Julian; Orphans—John Sanders; Golden Eagle—Max Caplan; Mullins—John Carpenter.

Board Fixes Player Limit

The teams will swing into action in first games at the Memorial gym during the week of January 18. A player limit of eight to a team has been fixed by the board of arbitration, composed of Postmaster Earl Beardsmore, Michael Schuller and James Primin.

Play in the city Class A league will get under way at the Memorial gym next week. A meeting of managers was held last night.

Eight teams are entered in the league. Officials announced today that managers of other teams planning to compete must submit their entries before Monday night.

Here's the schedule for next week:

Tuesday Night
7:00—Columbians vs Trinity Lutheran.

7:45—Baptists vs Presbyterians.
8:40—Friends vs Winona.

Thursday Night
7:30—Rumahians vs Wilson service station.

A Great Day for Old Nassau

A feature of Princeton University's celebration of its greatest football season in recent years was this huge bonfire, blazing in the Nassau Hall quadrangle, where a parade and speeches extolled the Tiger gridder for completing the season unbeaten and untied. A great part of the Tiger's satisfaction came through the defeat of Yale for the first time since 1928.

Giant Secretary Denies Reports of Player Trade

Travis Jackson Will Be Kept by New Yorkers, Tierney Insists

(By Associated Press) NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—Jim Tierney, secretary of the New York Giants, never will get his bag packed for the trip to Chicago next week if the rumor boys don't give him a breathing spell.

Tierney's preparations for attending the major league meetings have met with serious delays while he has been busy engaged in denying that either Francis Xavier O'Doul or Travis (Stonewall) Jackson would be traded, or that outfielder Joe Moore's health was so precarious as to make it doubtful he would be able to take his place in left field for the world championships next year.

Jackson, troubled for several years with injuries to both knees, but a brilliant performer for the Giants in the world series, has been mentioned as a possible candidate for the management of the Cincinnati Reds.

"Jackson will be with us next spring," insisted Tierney. "There wasn't anything wrong with his knees in the world series was there?"

O'Doul's name has been linked with various trade rumors but Jim says the Giants have never considered trading or asking waivers on the veteran outfielder whose pinch hit won the second game of the world series with the Washington Senators.

Many big trades already have been sprung but more probably will be introduced at Chicago. The Yankees, for one, are in the market for a winning right handed pitcher and Joe McCarthy would not look the other way if Oral Hildebrand, youthful Cleveland Indian star, should be offered him.

The Brooklyn Dodgers, needing all kinds of new strength, will be ready to consider most any sort of an offer.

ACTON, Eng.—Irish cows pay their way. When a cargo shipment arrived from Fishguard, it was found that six had given birth to calves enroute.

GRIER FAVORED OVER RIVAL IN CLASH TONIGHT

Alliance Battler Meets Youngstown Flash At Memorial Gym

The 1933-34 ring season is inaugurated in Salem tonight in a 22-round boxing show and a one-hour, no holds barred wrestling match staged by Joe M. Kelley at the Memorial building gymnasium.

Tiger Rosie Grier, Alliance stylist who is going places rapidly in fighting, battles Emil Tanner of Youngstown in the main, eight-round argument that should be a thriller, while Don Blackburn of Salem meets Keggie Remund of Youngstown in a four-rounder that holds much interest for local fans.

Grier, one of Ohio's best in his division, is favored over Tanner but the battle is expected to hold plenty of sensations for the spectators. Both battlers are confident of victory and Tanner has plenty of fans back of him who are certain that he'll upset the dope and hand Grier a sound trouncing.

Blackburn's abilities as a pugilist are unknown locally as it will be the local lad's first battle here. He's a member of the stable of C. W. "Ducky" Youtz which contains such fighters as Walter Dickey, Joe O'Keefe and others.

Wrestling fans will probably find plenty to howl and yell about as they watch Roughhouse Ritz of Canton and Mike Cochrane of Columbus tangle in their one-hour limit fray. Both are known as real ruckers at the grunt and groan racket.

Jackie Coogan of Canton meets Jack Lysic of Akron in the semi-final and Phil Dobbins, Akron, tangles with Young Dorsey, Sebring, in a prelim of four rounds.

Michigan's Record

ANN HARBOR, Mich.—The University of Michigan's football victory over Northwestern at the close of the 1933 season which gave Michigan its fourth consecutive Big Ten title was also the 400th football game played by Michigan teams. Fred Matthaei, president of the U. of M. club of Detroit, points out Michigan's record for the 400 games since 1878 is won—320, lost 62, tied 18, for a percentage of 83.

Matthaei also figures to show that Michigan hasn't been defeated by Indiana in four years, by Minnesota in six years, by Chicago in 16 years, by Northwestern in eight years, by Wisconsin in six years and by Iowa in nine years.

BOZEMAN, Mont.—Visions of another great Bobcat basketball machine filled the minds of Coach Subert Dyche of Montana State college and local fans as they looked over the 70 prospects who answered the first call for practice. A few years ago the 'cats were one of the fastest-scoring aggregations in the country.

GRIDIRON GOSSIP

(By International News Service) DENVER, Dec. 8.—Charges of overemphasis are old as football itself.

Homer D. Boushner of Denver, Princeton "old grad," one of the two living survivors of the first intercollegiate football game, brushed aside the intervening 84 years to tell about the advent of the gridiron sport in college athletic circles. The contest was between a group of young men from the campus of Princeton University and a similar group from Rutgers college and was played in New Brunswick, N. J., on Nov. 6, 1879.

Only a few of the curious gathered about the open field to see football's baptism as an intercollegiate sport.

"WE HAD practiced all fall at Princeton," Boushner said, "and a few games had been played among campus groups. We thought it would be a fine thing to play a game between colleges. The boys at Rutgers agreed to the proposal and we squared off for the first game of college football.

"There were 25 players on a side. There were several more men on the rush line than they allow today. The field wasn't much larger, but there were so many players it was impossible to carry the ball.

"Thus the game had a great deal more 'kick' than today, for booting the ball was the most important maneuver. The side posts were 25 feet apart. The side first kicking six goals automatically won the game.

"Well, Princeton lost the game, 6 to 4. I remember kicking one right square over one of the posts. It was disallowed, because the ball had to go between the uprights.

"The NEXT WEEK a return game was played at Princeton and the Tigers won by a 6 to 0 score. We were all excited about playing a rubber game, but the faculty stepped in and what do you think they told us? That we were taking too much time for football at the expense of our studies. So you see they even talked about overemphasis in those days."

Boushner is 83 years old and graduated from Princeton in the class of '71.

The only other survivor of the first game is Charles Lane, '72, who lives in Maryland. Boushner was invited by Dr. A. W. Dodds, president of Princeton, and by President Clothier of Rutgers, also a Princeton man, to attend this year's game between Princeton and Rutgers. He decided not to attend, because of reports of cold weather in the East.

CHICAGO, Dec. 8.—A pair of veterans and one of the younger stars today were tied for first place in the world pocket billiards championship tournament and were certain of remaining there until tomorrow.

The shareholders were Andrew Ponzi of Philadelphia, and Erwin Rudolph of Cleveland, the veterans, and 23-year old Jimmy Caras of Wilmington, Del. Each won his second straight match yesterday and had nothing to do on today's schedule.

Ponzi defeated Pasquale Natalie of Chicago, 125 to 109, in eight innings, while Rudolph, winner of the 1929 tournament, polished off Charles Seaback of Astoria, N. Y., 125 to 65, in six innings and set a high run mark for the tournament to date of 80. The game also was the shortest of the competition.

Klein Leads National League Hitters Third Straight Year

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—For the third successive year, Chuck Klein topped the National League in slugging during 1933 and also led all rivals in batting effectiveness, by hitting into only three double plays.

The Phillies, outfield ace, traded to the Chicago Cubs recently, compiled a slugging average of .602, the league's official "miscellaneous records," made public today, revealed. Holder of the league batting champion-hip, Klein compiled his winning slugging percentage with 235 total bases in 606 times at bat. He drove in 129 runs to lead in another department, drew 36 walks and struck out 36 times.

Mel Ott of the New York Giants drew the most walks, 75, to top that list for the second year in a row, while Johnny Frederick of Brooklyn fanned only 14 times in 147 games, for the best record in that respect. The Cubs were by far the best home club but the Giants topped them all on the road.

Trailing Klein in batting effectiveness was Ralph Boyle of Brooklyn, who hit into only two double plays in 338 times at bat.

Wally Berger of Boston held two second places in the slugging averages with a slugging percentage of .566 and 106 runs batted in. He also was the leader in strikeouts, whiffing 77 times. George Watkins of St. Louis was hit 12 times by pitched balls. As a club, the Pittsburgh Pirates were the leading sluggers, with a .383 mark while the league as a whole compiled a .362 average.

The Cubs, in their own park, won 56 games and lost only 23, for a .709 average, but on foreign fields their average dropped to .400 from 30 victories and 45 defeats. The Giants stood third in the at home ranking with 48 games won and 27 lost for .640 but on the road they were far ahead with 43 victories and 34 defeats for .558.

HOME MAKING HELPS

By Wanda Barton

New, Beautiful Fashions

Offered for Home. Too

IT ISN'T only the smart dress-makers and milliners who are showing new and exciting fashions. Visit the shops and department store sections devoted to the home and you will find new and beautiful fashions, too, gadgets and decorative ideas that will lend new enchantment to your home, and they can be had at a modest outlay. Make it a habit to visit shops devoted to the home once in a while. You will be amazed and happy at the ideas you will gather, even if you do not make a purchase. New ideas in table setting, or for the informal buffet, new groupings of furniture, all are awaiting your inspection.

New Shower Fixture

For instance, if you have a bathroom without a shower fixture, there is a grand new device on the market, that is also being used, in lieu of the regular overhead shower. It is a chromium fixture that fits to the rim of the tub and there is no need of a curtain since the spray falls to the center of the tub. There is an extension device so that the shower can be fitted to any size tub. Grand for the invalid or for those who are frightened of standing in the tub, and it is very moderate in price.

Kitchen Gadgets

For the kitchen there are lots of new things. Very new and useful is a deep fat fryer which operates on alternating current. It is so designed that all odor and smoke is eliminated and it fries so quickly that the food doesn't get a chance to absorb grease. Another fine electrical device is an electric broom which is fast replacing the carpet sweeper. It has a dirt receptacle that is easily emptied, a rubber nozzle and an automatic cord release. It can be purchased with dust mop and vacuum attachments and so is a very versatile member of the broom family.

If you are in the market for a new electric drip-coffee maker, we have found a beauty.

Electrical Devices

It operates on alternating current, which is a reminder that purchasers of electrical devices should always be sure whether direct or alternating current is supplied to their home, since many of the newer devices are for A. C. only. The grand thing about the drip coffee machine is that electric element keeps the water piping hot while the coffee is brewing and no filter papers are necessary as the water goes through at once.

New Ways of Serving

Other new ideas include a dish rack of aluminum covered in rubber to prevent dishes from chipping when stacking. Then there are cork mats decorated in gay colors, grand for the informal table and for the nursery. They can be perfectly cleaned with a damp cloth.

And talking of entertaining, reminds us that you will find a host of new ideas in trays and tables. For instance, there is a new tray of dark brown wood and chromium which serves liquors, coffee and cigarettes, taking care of four servings. The dishes are of white china and the whole affair is smart, inexpensive and compact.

KNAVE'S GIRL By JOAN CLAYTON COPYRIGHT 1932, KING FEATURES SYNDICATE, INC.

SYNOPSIS

Fear that Bill McGee, the racketeer, would wreak vengeance on her and her family if she refused to go out with him, caused lovely Patricia Warren to accept his invitations. Bill is shot by a rival gangster while in Patricia's company. Pat rushes home in terror and her stepmother puts her out, saying the police are looking for Pat. Unable to find employment, Pat resorts to her card skill and plays professional bridge. Julian Haverholt, noted bridge expert, makes her his partner. While they are discussing business details at his home, Clark Tracy, the polo player and Pat's secret love, calls. She had met him once but he does not recognize her. Haverholt introduces Pat as his niece. She is indignant, but he explains later that he was thinking of her reputation and that it would be advisable for her to assume that role as long as she is to stay at his home. Pat visits her old home and finds that Bill McGee has wrecked her stepmother's dressmaking shop because Pat fled from him the night of the shooting. She returns to Haverholt who promises to protect her. Accustomed to poverty, Pat revels in the luxury of her surroundings.

Over tea cups they regarded each other triumphantly, discussed the purchases and concluded they wouldn't change a thing.

CHAPTER NINETEEN

In the morning Patricia breakfasted luxuriously in bed, tasting all the joys of a first occasion. Blueberry muffins and jam, a marvelous fluffy omelet sprinkled with bits of parsley, two tiny crisp sausages, clear, delicious coffee.

"You're one grand cook," she told the hovering housekeeper. "I like to see folks eat," admitted the other, flattered by the compliment. "Your uncle don't eat near enough. You'll have to take him in hand."

"I'll try to," Patricia promised, secretly amused at the idea of anyone taking Julian Haverholt in hand. So far he had taken her in hand. She had a fairly well defined notion that he would continue to do so.

At eleven he sent word that he was waiting downstairs. Wondering what was to come next, she put on the same clothes she had worn before and descended to greet him.

"Did you sleep well, Patricia?"

"Very well, indeed."

"No bad dreams?"

"None at all."

"That's good, because we have a big day's shopping ahead of us," he announced calmly. "Selecting a young lady's wardrobe isn't quite in my line but as I look at you I find I have very definite opinions as to what you should wear. Green for that blazing hair, black for your lovely skin—how do you manage such skin in New York, child?—and perhaps a couple of white evening dresses because you are so very young."

"I'm not to be consulted in the matter?"

"That wasn't necessary," Haverholt informed her, smiling. "I have thought of everything, even of your prickly pride. We will keep a careful account and you may pay me back every penny, including the hundred and twenty-seven dollars you owe me."

"Out of what?" Patricia demanded boldly.

"Out of what you and I are going to win at bridge," he said blandly, sweeping aside all possible objections with one magnificent gesture. "Now that's nicely settled and our car is waiting, mademoiselle." Glancing at his watch, he said, "I should judge five minutes sufficient for you to put on your hat, to get your gloves and pocketbook."

"My completely empty pocketbook," qualified the girl.

"Is it?" he inquired innocently. Patricia ran to the table, picked up her pocketbook, looked inside. The inner purse bulged. Inside she found ten one hundred dollar bills. She looked at Julian.

"That goes on our account, too," he said hastily. "You now owe me one thousand one hundred and twenty-seven dollars." Seeing gathering trouble, he added, "I had hoped you might like to send a part of it to your stepmother."

"Thank you, I would."

Patricia closed her pocketbook. Arm in arm she and Julian Haverholt walked out into the sunlight. The shopping trip was heaven. The man was an ideal companion for such an expedition. He had an eye for line and color; he knew the best and wanted it. He was tireless, he was patient, he was determined that this lovely, flattered girl should be
